Chase Construction Thinks Green for New Headquarters

Miami, FL – Chase Construction Management has moved its corporate headquarters to South Miami-Dade, adjacent to the City of Pinecrest. In an effort to accommodate its growing staff and the need to centralize operations, Chase relocated from downtown Miami to the ever-growing area in South Dade.

The freestanding building located on Southwest 128 Street and 84th Avenue is spacious and convenient. Chase invested thousands to modernize the building while keeping the environment in mind. The office is an efficient design to operate, with updated technology that allows for minimal paper use, it is equipped with compact fluorescent lighting that uses 1/10 of the electricity, and it has fewer windows which demises the heat load and makes cooling costs and usage of energy to cool greatly reduced.

“This is truly a great place for us to call home as we continue to grow our business.” John Micali, Vice President. “The new office is less than 2 miles from the homes most of the management personnel that will be there every day, reducing fuel costs and travel time.”

Chase Construction Management is a pioneer in commercial construction in South Florida. Founded by Larry Chase over 20 years ago, the company continues to improve the skylines and communities in South Florida and beyond. For more information on Chase visit the website at www.chasecm.com.
